Main Domains of Research:

I'm Clinical Psychologist at the Psychological Neuropsychiatry Unit, Child and Adolescent Neuropsychiatric Unit, of the Bambino Gesù Children's Hospital in Rome. My major research interests are in the field of Developmental Neuropsychology. I have worked as a researcher and a clinician with children with autism, intellectual disabilities, genetic disorders and learning disabilities. My PhD years were spent in the study of neural correlates of developmental dyslexia by means of Transcranial Magnetic Stimulation. In particular, I focused in applying this non-invasive brain stimulation technique to dyslexia for a rehabilitative purpose. I have continued these studies applying different techniques, such as transcranial direct current stimulation (tDCS), trying to identify optimal protocols for tDCS treatment in children with dyslexia and I have applied tDCS treatment protocols even in other neurodevelopmental disorders (ADHD, Autism, Dyscalculia) and in psychiatric disorders in developmental age (Anorexia, catatonia). I'm responsible of numerous research projects and I have obtained funding from foundations and from the Italian Ministry of Health as a young researcher on tDCS protocols. As a clinician, I am responsible of the clinical protocol dedicated to cognitive and behavioral assessment in children with Down syndrome. My research in Down syndrome has focused on studying the cognitive and behavioral profile and in promoting innovative treatments in children and adolescents with DS.
